

Professional training workshops

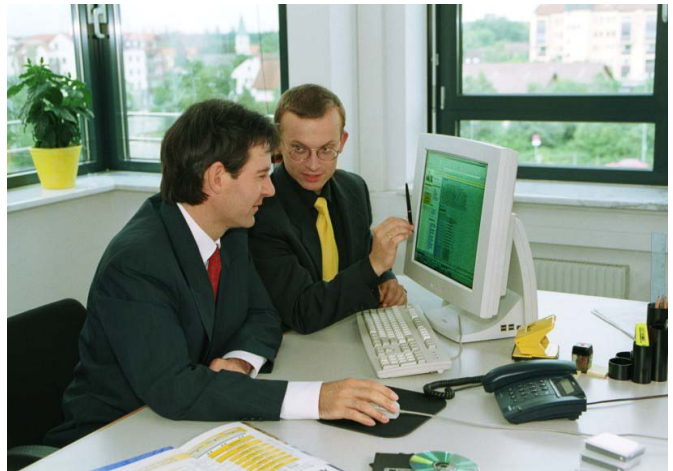

Biomax offers professional training to help our customers take full advantage of the powerful capabilities of Biomax software in their daily work.

These proven workshops have been developed based on the previous needs of our customers and are further tailored to meet your company's unique requirements.

- Biomax bioinformaticians present the material with easy-to-understand visual presentations.
- Hands-on exercises using the software and your own data reinforce the techniques.
- Training manuals and other course materials are provided for each participant.

Workshops are available for beginners, expert users and administrators and may be held on-site at your location or at Biomax's dedicated training center.

To ensure the highest quality instruction, attendance for each workshop is limited to ten participants.
